Happy New Year from Port Angeles

What a whirlwind of a year! For the past few months, our resident artists have been creating their own "Santa's workshop" by churning out incredibly unique and well-executed contemporary art. As we reflect back on the year, we are completely filled with gratitude for their contribution to the community and look forward to everything they have in store in 2025. Special thanks and best wishes to Bayloo, Will Frick, Larry White, and Izzy Zucker as they finish their residency and take on their next career steps in 2025. You can still catch some of their work on display and for sale at The Hub.

2025 is the Year of Creativity

If you have a creative goal for 2025, we're here to help. Memberships to The Hub give you access to our space to Make, Work, and Play with whatever ideas you have. We have in-house design and business consultants to help guide you through your vision and artists to help fuel your creative energy. Plus, you get full access to our events that help connect you with the Port Angeles creative community. Come by The Hub and talk to us about how a membership can help you get unstuck. Thank you to the brave experimenters of 2024 who tested new concepts in Port Angeles for the first time: Big Al's Boozeless Jam, DJ Thaumatic's Lounge 99.9, Drum and Dance by Elissa, Breathwork by Mikki, and the Port Angeles Night Market by Mary B. Truly.

A Message from

123°W Design Collective

Big things are coming to Port Angeles. You can feel it in the crisp air at the skating rink. You can see it in the artwork popping up on vacant buildings. You can taste it in the food trucks and restaurants feverishly testing new menus before the summer tourists invade. There is something about this place that is part magic, part insanity.

A lot of people have asked me why I decided to relocate my design firm from Atlanta to Port Angeles. Why not?! I want to be surrounded by the best thinkers, makers, and creatives I can find. In 2025, we are going to tackle the housing crisis with a new line of affordable and sustainable homes, we are launching the first ever art and design zine for Port Angeles, and we are starting a tour group to showcase the amazing creatives this place has to offer. Why wouldn't I want to be here?! Come talk to us if you feel the same.
